—The citizens of Medina were protected last Saturday night far better than they thought they were. No less than 26 stalwart young men in uniform paroled the streets until mid-night alert for any suspicious character or misconduct upon the part of any one. These guards were Medina's boy scouts under the leadership of Scoutmaster Olds, and all are to be complimented for the idea and the carrying of it out.

MISSIONARY WOMEN TO MEET
On Friday morning the Methodist missionary women of this part of Wooster district will gather at the Medina Methodist church for a general discussion of the part which women bear in the work of missions.

The meeting will continue into the afternoon. Mrs. Slutz of Wooster will preside. All women of Medina county are heartily invited to attend. Several speakers of special merit will be present.

In the afternoon this meeting will give way to a meeting for both men and women under the direction of District Supt. Slutz of Wooster. The theme will change to a discussion of the Methodist forward movement with addresses by prominent laymen of this section. At the evening services addresses will be brought by Rev. Beard of Orrville, Rev. Wolfe of Wadsworth and Doctor Slutz. Music will be furnished by the Schiller male quartet of Berea, Miss Jessie Pocock of Medina and the Medina church choir.

WHEEL OFF, DITCHES AUTO
While en route from Cleveland to his farm south of Medina Sunday afternoon and when at a point near the home of Geo. Mallert a mile and a half north of town, a front wheel on the auto of Wm. H. Patchet came off and the machine tipped over, dumping the occupants, five in number, into the ditch. With Mr. Patchet were his daughter and two girl friends and the chauffeur. None was injured but one of the girls, who suffered only a slight bruise to one of her feet. The auto, a big Velie, was badly broken and was later hauled to the Patchet farm. A car from Medina passing at the time took the ladies back to Cleveland. Mrs. Mallert, who witnessed the accident, thought the party were all seriously injured and called Dr. Robinson from Medina, but the call was soon found to have been unnecessary.

The letters and figures shall be at least two and one half inches high. They shall be white on a black background, or vice versa. The order for these signs will be sent to all road officials in the state.

WAY TO KEEP BOYS ON FARM
Farmers in the vicinity of Brady Lake, near Akron, have their own ideas about keeping their boys on the farm and making them content to help with the harvesting. A camp was opened near the lake and just before the busy harvest season a dozen farmer's boys spent a week there. A three-room cottage was built and equipped for sleeping and cooking. Several boys of the community will accompany the Buckeye Corn Special Tour to Washington, Philadelphia, and New York, November 29 to December 4.

GARDEN WORK FOR NOVEMBER

Sowing of button radishes may be made in hotbeds or cold frames and brought to mature size before severe freezing weather. The use of double glazed sash will materially lessen the work of caring for plants, hotbeds and frames in cold weather, but their successful use from the growing standpoint requires that the glass be perfectly clean. Otherwise the accumulation of dirt between the panes of glass will shut out the light and retard growth. If frames are well made and protected with manure the double glazed sash will prevent injury in severe freezing weather.

The celery should now be in condition for placing in storage either in trenches or cool cellars. But do not put it away until the weather promises to be severely cold, otherwise the celery is likely to get too warm and decay.

In storing celery dig a trench about 15 inches deep and 18 inches wide on a well drained plot of ground. Remove the outer leaves and pack closely in the trench, covering the roots with earth. Apply water to the roots as trenching proceeds, but do not wet the tops. When all is stored, cover with boards nailed to form an inverted trough and add enough soil to shut out the cold and exclude the rain or snow.
